

Solihull Foundation Training

Early Years - the organisation for young children are delighted to be offering this course for all practitioners who work with children and their families.

The Solihull Approach offers a two day foundation training for groups of professionals across the UK and internationally.

The Solihull Approach introduces a model for understanding the impact of relationships on health and wellbeing and the impact of adverse childhood experiences on health and wellbeing. It supports effective and consistent approaches across agencies as a shared framework.

Solihull 2 Day Foundation Training

facilitated By:

Megan McConaghy
Early Years Quality Mentor
Designated Solihull Trainer

The Solihull Approach Foundation Training is designed for any practitioner working with babies, young children and school-aged children, young people and their families to support the use of the Solihull Approach from any agency.

Following on from the two day foundation training, participants will have the opportunity to engage within two interactive workshops that will support embedding the approach into practice.
